

COOKIES POLICY

LAST MODIFIED: March 18, 2025

Effective as of the date listed above, PPS International Limited, its subsidiaries and its affiliates, (collectively, the “PPS International” or “we” or “us” or “our”) have adopted this Cookie Policy. This Cookie Policy is designed to be read in conjunction with our general Privacy Policy. For the purposes of this Cookie Policy, we say the “Website,” we mean <https://www.soloisprofile.com/>.

Like many website operators, we and our analytics vendors use server logs and automated data collection tools, such as browser cookies, pixel tags, scripts and web beacons. These tools are used for analytics purposes to enable us to understand how users interact with the Website.

1. What is a cookie?

A cookie is a small text file that is placed on your hard drive by a web page server. Cookies contain information that can later be read by a web server in the domain that issued the cookie to you. There are several types of cookies:

- Session cookies provide information about how a website is used during a single browser session while a user is visiting a website and usually expire after the browser is closed.
- Persistent cookies remain on your device between different browser sessions for a set amount of time in order to enable the website to remember user preferences, settings, or actions across other sites. A persistent cookie will remain on a user’s device for a set period of time specified in the cookie.
- First-party cookies are cookies set by the operator of the website you are visiting.
- Third-party cookies are cookies set by third parties that are different from the operator website you are visiting.
- Web beacons, tags and scripts may be used in the Website or in our emails to help us to deliver cookies, count visits, understand usage and campaign effectiveness and determine whether an email has been opened and acted upon. More information about each cookie can be found by viewing our current cookie table below, which is updated periodically.

2. Our collection of cookies

We, our marketing partners, affiliates, and analytics or service providers use cookies and other similar technologies. We group the cookies that we collect into the following categories based on their function (note that all types of cookies, as described above, will be found in each category):

Category	Description
Essential Cookies	Essential cookies are sometimes called “strictly necessary” as without them we cannot operate and administer the Website. For example, essential cookies help remember your preferences as you move around the Website.
Analytics Cookies	These cookies track information about visits to the Website so that we can make improvements and report our performance. For example: analyze visitor and user behavior so as to provide more relevant content or suggest certain activities. They collect information about how visitors use the Website, which site the user came from, the number of each user's visits and how long a user stays on the Website. We might also use analytics cookies to test new ads, pages, or features to see how users react to them.

Functionality or Preference Cookies	During your visit to the Website, cookies are used to remember information you have entered or choices you make (such as your username, language or your region) on the Website. They also store your preferences when personalizing the Website to optimize your use, for example, your preferred language. These preferences are remembered, through the use of the persistent cookies, and the next time you visit the Website you will not have to set them again.
Targeting or Advertising Cookies	These Third Party Cookies are placed by third-party advertising platforms or networks in order to, deliver ads and track ad performance, enabling advertising networks to deliver ads that may be relevant to you based upon your activities (this is sometimes called "behavioral" "tracking" or "targeted" advertising) on the Website. They may subsequently use information about your visit to target you with advertising that you may be interested in, on the Website and other websites. For example, these cookies remember which browsers have visited the Website.

Specific disclosure of what cookies we collect and for what purposes are found in the Cookie Table below. We only collect cookies with your consent. If you have previously given consent to the collection of cookies, you can stop the use of cookies by the Website by following the instructions in this Cookie Policy.

3. Third-party cookies

The Website allows third parties to place cookies on your Internet-connected device to deliver advertisements based on your web-browsing habits and history. Further, to provide interoperability and plug-ins from various social media websites (like LinkedIn), the Website allows these third parties to place and collect cookies on your Internet-connected device. However, you can restrict the third-party collection of cookies through the instructions provided in the section How to Restrict Cookies below.

4. Do Not Track

Do Not Track ("DNT") is an optional browser setting that allows you to express your preferences regarding tracking across websites. Most modern web browsers give you the option to send a Do Not Track signal to the websites you visit, indicating that you do not wish to be tracked. However, there is no accepted standard for how a website should respond to this signal, so we do not take any action in response to this signal. We do not have a mechanism in place to respond to DNT signals. Instead, in addition to publicly available external tools, we offer you the choices described in this Cookie Policy to manage the collection and use of information about you.

5. How to Restrict Cookies

You can adjust the settings in your browser to restrict or block cookies that are set by the Website (or any other website on the Internet). Your browser may include information on how to adjust your settings. Alternatively, you may visit the U.S. Federal Trade Commission's website www.consumer.ftc.gov to obtain comprehensive general information about cookies and how to adjust the cookie settings on various browsers.

You can control and delete these cookies through your browser settings through the following:

- Mozilla Firefox
- Safari
- Opera
- Microsoft Internet Explorer

Please be aware that restricting cookies may impact the functionality of the Website. For example, refusing cookies will not allow us to present the Website in your preferred language or remember your log-in information. Additional general information about cookies, including how to be notified about the placement of new cookies and how to disable cookies, can be found at www.allaboutcookies.org.
